WHOLESALE

"I judge a restaurant by the bread and by the coffee"

Burt Lancaster

HOW TO READ A HONEY LABEL

HONEY QUALITY

SINGLE SOURCE (least common) - T&C Honey. Example: Lithuania, Ireland. It's from a single beekeeper, from the same apiary or hive.

BLEND OF EU HONEYS - two or more honeys from the EU.

BLEND OF EU & NON EU HONEYS (very common) - partially from the EU, mostly not, that's all you know.

BLEND OF NON EU HONEYS - it's not from the EU, that's all you know.

HONEY QUALITY

NOT FILTERED & NOT HEATED (rare) - T&C honey.

As RAW honey as it can be. Contains propolis & pollen. Honey crystallises 2-5 weeks from collection & probably already crystallised when you buy it. This type of honey preserves all vitamins, nutrients and all enzymes are intact.

FILTERED & HEATED (very common)

Most popular honey. Rarely crystallises (if at all). Filtered honey is heated (kills enzymes) and then passed through a fine filter. This removes all pollen and propolis together with its health benefits and you left with sugar liquid.
